

Meeting Agenda March 25, 2010

Janet Kaplan of Stuyvesant Plaza is the guest speaker tonight—she had been our guest speaker on April 19, 2005.

Tree Committee

February 22 and the CO detector requirement

Fuller Road is under reconstruction—poles etc

Police report

Zoning review committee report, Ken Brownell, chair

University and its two new dormitories—500 bed each near pond

NanoTech and its new buildings on the northwest corner of Washington Avenue Extension Eagle Hill School is being reviewed for possible closing

April meeting on Thursday April 23 John McGuire, School superintendent likely guest speaker
Storm sewer report—Delaware engineering report is in process

McKownville Park—the flooding has been abated and the Park is in process of being completed
Germano's site has a tinting office

Hansen's has a new realty office

Palm reader building is vacant and now owned by Sutters

5 Guys restaurant where Denny's once was is now open

New water lines are being placed under Fuller Road

University Fireworks on April 24 with free tickets for everyone—7pm game time

Meeting with Miriam Termentozzi of the university about town gown relationships

Wet Down of the new fire truck # 57 to take place at the University on April 24 followed by an open house and picnic at the firehouse

Harriman campus—LeDuke

School election coming—May 18—4 board seats open—budget will be adopted April 13

1445 Western Avenue still has a hole in it

Dan McKinley died

Barber's farm stand—about July 4th

Flushing of water lines in McKownville May 17-28

Two new neighborhood association in Guilderland—Guilderland Center and Guilderland—and a new one in Albany on our border—Eagle Hill